CALL FOR PAPERS

INVITED SESSION: Computational Intelligence and Big Data Analysis

This invited session will discuss recent advances in the evolutionary computing, swarm intelligence, and big data analysis, as well as bioinspired evolutionary algorithms and its applications, fuzzy theory and its applications, map reduce, and ANN applications. Contributions containing new insights and findings in this field are welcome. Particular attention will be given to the following theme areas; however, it should be stressed that a broad range of submissions are encouraged. The special session provides an international forum for researchers and specialists from the fields of evolutionary computing and big data analysis. Other related topics such as intelligence vehicle system, intelligence transportation, routing in wireless sensor networks, etc. are welcome to be shared in this session.

Full Paper Due Date: January 31, 2017

Notification: February 20, 2017

Camera-ready Paper Deadline: March 20, 2017
