

Session Organizer: Prof. Wen Chung Kuo

I am organizing a special session on Novel Approaches to Information Security Application for HIS 2009, which will be held in Shenyang on August 12-14, 2009. It brings together researchers working across this field to share their experience and discuss advanced techniques. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

1. Information security applications in access control
2. Information security applications in digital signature
3. Information security applications in quantum cryptography
4. Information security applications in data hiding
5. Information security applications in watermark
6. Other emerging approaches to Information security application
