Invited Session on Image Feature Extraction, Compression and Watermarking

Session Organizers: Prof. Dr. Zhe-Ming Lu, Sun Yat-Sen University, P. R. China
Prof. Fa-Xin Yu, Zhejiang University, P. R. China

We are organising a special session on Image Feature Extraction, Compression and Watermarking for IIHMSP 2008, which will be held in Harbin City, China on August 15 - 17. It brings together researchers working across this field to share their experience and discuss advanced techniques. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

1. Digital Image Watermarking.
2. Image Segmentation.
3. Image Robust Feature Extraction
4. Image Semantic Extraction
5. ROI based Image Coding
6. Scalable Image Coding
7. Image Authentication
8. New application areas of vector quantization

Submissions:

Prospective contributors are encouraged to submit papers and to attend IIHMSP 2008. Each paper will be reviewed by at least two referees. Accepted papers will be included in the proceedings volume. Full papers (complete with title, author's names, affiliation, e-mail addresses, illustrations, an up to 150 word abstract, and at most 4 double-column single spaced pages long and prepared according to IEEE format) should be submitted electronically in PDF format. To this purpose, the Corresponding Author of each submitted paper should send by March 30th, 2008 her/his paper as an attached file to zhemingl@yahoo.com. The electronic file should be named with the surname of the Corresponding Author, followed by the appropriate extension. The text of the accompanying e-mail message should include: contact information for the corresponding author; names and addresses of all authors (including e-mail and fax); an up to 150 word abstract; 3-5 keywords; at least 1 topic of interest.
